

Holmes Program Pathways

AACTE Holmes Program participants are part of a national community working to develop and support historically underrepresented students in the education field. At each level, students enjoy tailored opportunities and support from peer networks, program administrators, and alumni mentors. The program helps participants explore a variety of future career options related to education.

Career Opportunities